County Continues to Score State Fair Floral Victories

San Mateo County's exhibit at the state fair in Sacramento has won 23 first prizes and five second prizes during the first five days of the show.

Labor Day saw San Mateo County's flowers again take first places in competition with other counties. Twenty-five varieties of gladioli were shown. They were grown by Garbaldi, Gotelli and Golden Gate Wholesale Florists in Colma and exhibited a bewildering variety of color. Two hundred and fifty asters shown at the same time supplied by Lee Bros. of San Mateo showed a range of color from deep purple to white in seven varieties.

San Mateo County won two first prizes for gardenias and pompon zinnias Saturday. Making up the two exhibits were 300 gardenias and 250 zinnias.

Gardenias were supplied by E. W. McLellan Co. of Colma and Enomoto & Co. of Redwood City. Zinnias were supplied by various estates in the southern end of the county.

Sunday four classes of roses were in competition, two outdoor grown and two greenhouse grown. The county took first prize for the mixed varieties of outdoor grown roses and second for the pink varieties. In the greenhouse stock the county took first prize for red varieties and second for pink.

All the outdoor grown roses were supplied by amateurs and came from the home of Mrs. Iva Newman of Hillsborough and various estates from all over the county. The greenhouse grown roses came from Avansino Mortensen Co. of San Bruno and Enomoto & Co. of Redwood City.

Mate Jailed For Shooting Brisbane Wife

A craving to shoot guns when he drinks Sunday night landed a Brisbane man in jail and his wife in the hospital, the sheriff's office reported Tuesday.

Mrs. Roberta Gregory, 39, of 95 Eldorado St., is in critical condition in South San Francisco Hospital. She was shot in the side with a .22 caliber rifle.

Her husband, Telfer Gregory, 45, a roofer, was booked for assault with a deadly weapon. No charge was filed, pending the outcome of Mrs. Gregory's injury.

The shooting took place during a party at the Gregory home, Dep. Sheriff Jack O'Brien said. Two men who attended the party were booked as material witnesses. They are George Brooks, 51, and Cecil Brewer, 49, both of 37 Sierra Pt. Rd., Brisbane.

O'Brien quoted Brewer as saying that Gregory has a habit of grabbing a .22 caliber rifle whenever he drinks, and shooting it in his house.

A month ago, O'Brien quoted Brewer as saying, Gregory took eight shots at his wife, but missed with all of them. The deputies found five bullet holes in the walls of the kitchen.

Last night, about half dozen persons were at the Gregory home. A quarrel started between Gregory and his wife over attentions allegedly paid her by another man, Brewer said. Brooks, fearing trouble, left.

Finally, Gregroy got up, and according to Brewer, said to his wife:

"I guess I'd better shoot you."

Gregory went into the kitchen, returned to the living room with the rifle, O'Brien said Brewer told him.

Only one shot was fired.

The bullet struck Mrs. Gregory in the right side and lodged under the skin of her left breast. A Brisbane special policeman was called, and Mrs. Gregory was taken to South San Francisco Hospital.

Harvey Hall Named To Stanford Post

Harvey Hall, former head of the Sequoia High School English Dept., announced Tuesday that he has been named assistant registrar at Stanford University and will take over the new post effective Sept. 15.

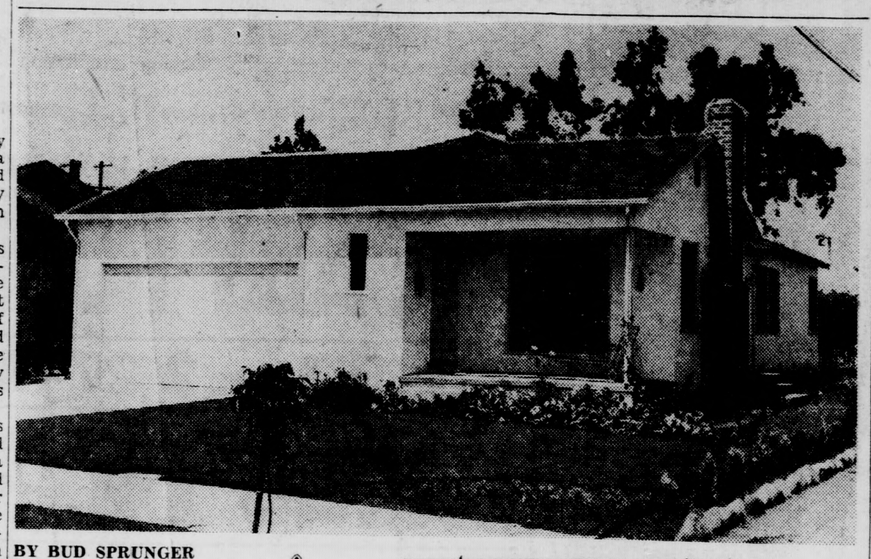
Hall said that in the new position he will work under Stanford Registrar Donald Winbegler.

Clyde Ogden, superintendent of the Sequoia High School Dist. announced Saturday that Hall had submitted his resignation as a member of the Sequoia faculty. Hall earlier had resigned as head counsellor and registrar at the high school after trustees voted to change the school counselling system.

First teaching at Sequoia in 1932, Hall seved as an English instructor and a counsellor until 1940 when he took a leave of absence to attend Columbia University in New York. He also coached the school debating team for several years.

While in the East he held the post of assistant dean of men at City College of New York for a year.

-:- Peninsula Homes for Americans -:-



BY BUD SPRUNGER

An answer to the problem of providing a house for a large family is given in today's Gazette Peninsula home which was constructed at 195 Iris St. by the George Leonard Realty Co.

The six-room house with attached garage contains three bed rooms, a dining room, kitchen, living room and bath as well as a small entry complete with a closet for coats.

Despite the number of rooms, the house will fit easily on a normal 50-foot city lot. Its width, including garage, is 37 feet and the garage is 18 by 20 feet leaving room for two vehicles.

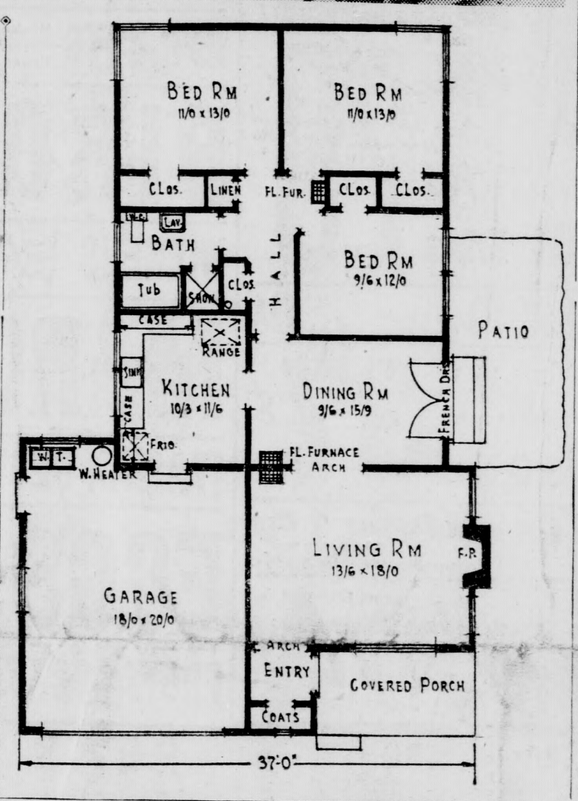
As a means towards conserving space inside the dwelling, wash tubs and the water heater are contained in an inset in the garage.

The firm produced this dwelling for $12,000, which is about normal for houses of its size inside a Peninsula city.

French doors lead from the dining room out onto a side patio and large bed room windows also look out on the patio.

Corner windows have been installed in the two rear bedrooms. These leave more wall space against which beds and other furniture can be placed. The two rear bedrooms are each 11 feet by 13 feet and, of course, need as much wall space as possible.

A door leads from the garage to the kitchen.



Oakland Man Hangs Himself In San Mateo Jail With Belt

An Oakland man, twice warned against creating a disturbance and finally arrested after a third complaint, hanged himself four hours later in the lower cell of San Mateo's new city jail.

He was identified as John E. Freeze, 48.

Police said he looped his belt around his neck, fastened it to a bar across a wall ventilator opening and stepped off the cell water closet.

He was found about 3 a.m. Tuesday by an officer making a routine check of the cells. Mr. Freeze was hanging with his face against the wall.

Sgt. Henry Kohnen was called and cut Mr. Freeze down. He was placed on the cell bunk and artificial respiration was begun pending arrival of a fire department respirator. However, a doctor called to the station pronounced the man dead.

Police said their first call in regard to the Oakland man came from Lodato Ave. and El Camino Real, South San Mateo, where they found him engaged in an argument with a San Mateo woman. He was warned to stop the disturbance and police left.

An hour later, another call was received from the same area, saying Mr. Freeze and the woman again were engaged in a dispute. Police advised both to go home and told Freeze he faced arrest if there should be another complaint.

A short time later, the woman called and said Freeze was "attacking" her automobile which was parked at Peninsula Country Club.

A patrol car, en route to the club, passed Freeze in his car on 20th Ave. Police gave chase, clocked Freeze at 60 miles an hour and cited him for speeding. Then, during a routine check of his car, Chief Robert E. O'Brien reported, they found the distributor head and spark plug wires from the woman's automobile.

Freeze was arrested and taken to the police station at 10:30 p.m. He apparently hanged himself sometime after 2 a.m.

The body was taken to the Patterson & O'Connell Funeral Home, San Mateo.

Burglar Gets $65 From Cigar Store

A burglar during the holidays broke into Dodge's Cigar Store, 2076 Broadway, and made off with about $65 in change and several packs of cigarets.

The burglary was discovered Tuesday by a clerk, Louis Hemrich, 93 Clinton St., when he went to work.

Redwood City Police Sgts. Sylvester Douglass and Cole Stafford said that the burglar broke in the glass of a rear window to gain entrance. The money was taken from the cash register and from cigar boxes.

Cigarets of four brands were also taken, but several packs were dropped by the burglar, evidently as he climbed out of the window.

10 Unhurt As Yacht Hits Rocks

Ten persons scrambled ashore uninjured when the yacht Minerva ran aground early Monday morning on Ano Nuevo Island at the extreme southern tip of the county coastline.

The yacht was the first reported casualty of the island since the Ano Nuevo light was extinguished earlier this year.

The Minerva, registered from the Aeolian Yacht Club, Alameda, ran aground in a predawn fog while towing the San Francisco yacht Volante, the Coast Guard reported.

The Volante, owner by Dr. Charles O'Brien of San Francisco, cut the towing lines and sailed away when the mishap occurred.

A ground party and two Coast Guard cutters were dispatched to the area for rescue work. The cutters, searching in heavy fog, were not able immediately to locate the Minerva.

The Minerva had participated in the annual windjammer race to Santa Cruz Friday night and was returning to Alameda.

Seven of those aboard were Robert Eschen of Alameda, the owner; his wife, Mrs. Carol Eschen, and their three children, Robert Jr., 22; Carol Louise, 16, and Joan, 15; H. Thornton Davis and Bill Davis, 19, also of Alameda. The other passengers were not immediately identified.

Attorney's Wife Granted Divorce

Mrs. Mae Plexico Wright, Hillsborough, wife of William E. Wright, a San Francisco attorney, Tuesday was granted a "quickie" divorce by Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton.

Mrs. Wright's complaint was filed Tuesday morning, and the interlocutory decree granted before noon. By terms of the decree, Mrs. Wright gets custody of a 7-year-old son, Edward, and $100 a month for his support and education.

Judge Cotton also approved the terms of a property agreement whereby Wright gives his wife their home at 901 Glen Wy., Hillsborough, a car, and $54,000 in two installments.

The couple married in Carson City on Sept. 12, 1938 and separated on June 28 this year.

5 New Polio Cases, Chope Seeks Nurses

Five new cases of infantile paralysis, filling the isolation ward at Community Hospital to overflowing, were reported during the past week in San Mateo County, Dr. Harold Chope, county health director, said Tuesday.

The new cases raised to 30 the number of poliomyelitis cases this year, all but eight of them since Aug. 1.

Preparations were under way today to make available more beds in Community Hospital, where there now are 14 polio patients. The isolation ward capacity is 12.

Dr. Chope said that the pediatrics ward was being moved to the hopsital penthouse, reeasing 15 beds. Another 15 will be available in the present tuberculosis ward, raising the total bed space to 42.

Tuberculosis patients are being moved into the hospital annex, which was taken back from Mills Memorial Hospital a month ago. Dr. Chope said that he was notified today that the anex has been approved by the state department of public health for the tuberculosis subsidy.

The concentration of the polio cases up to the end of August was in the south end of San Mateo County, most of them occurring in the Menlo Park area.

The five new cases, reported since Sept. 1, are in the central and northern parts of the county. Three of them are in San Mateo, and one each in Millbrae and San Bruno. The patients' ages range from 3 to 15.

He said that at present there are enough nurses to care for the patients at Community Hospital, but that the hospital would like to have a list of others available, should the need arise. The nurses will be paid regular rates, he said.

The San Mateo County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has been active in combatting the disease, Dr. Chope declared. There are two respirators at Community Hospital, one in use and the other in reserve. A third is at the Villa Sanatorium, and can be moved if necessary.

Only one death attributed to polio has occurred this year, the doctor declared.

Santa Cruz Blaze Being Controlled

Santa Cruz County's vast forest fire was virtually controlled Monday—but a half-dozen new blazes were reported in adjacent Santa Clara County, miles from the coastal fire.

De Witt Nelson, chief of the state forestry division, said he suspected the new blazes, on the slopes of Mt. Hamilton, were of incendiary origin. They were suspiciously close to each other, he said, and have charred an estimated 1200 acres.

Still danger points in Santa Cruz County, rangers said, were the heads of the Big Creek and San Vicente Canyons, where weary crews and bulldozers were concentrated to broaden firebreaks. The area is just southeast of the Empire Grade County Highway, a dozen miles or more north of the City of Santa Cruz.

The coastal blaze covered an estimated 15,000 acres, the Felton ranger station estimated. It has been almost fully controlled with the only major property damage confined to one ranch on upper Big Creek. No towns were reported in danger.

Board Hears Plan For Bay Crossing

San Mateo County's Board of Supervisors was notified yesterday that the U. S. Army is studying plans for two proposed San Francisco Bay crossings.

The plans, submitted by the state department of public works, call for a combination causeway and tube across the bay from Army St., San Francisco, to Alameda and for a high level bridge parallel to and 300 feet north of the present bay bridge.

DA Drops Burglary Charges Against Ex-P.A. Police Clerk

Burglary charges against a former Palo Alto police clerk were dismissed late Tuesday by Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton at the request of Dep. Dist. Atty. Henry Davis.

Davis said that he had no hope of getting a conviction in the case of George E. Sullivan, 25, of 650 Berkeley Ave., North Palo Alto.

A jury on July 13 failed to agree on the charges. Davis said that another trial would be a waste of money and time, since another disagreement probably would result.

Boys Blamed in 3 Woodside Fires

Three fires, believed set by four boys riding in a pickup truck, were reported Tuesday afternoon in Woodside, firemen said Wednesday.

One of the fires was extinguished by a passing motorist and the second by a group of children playing nearby.

According to Chief John Volpiano, "all three fires were definitely of incendiary origin." Two were set on Whiskey Hill Rd., and the third on Eleanor Dr. in Woodside Heights.

Volpiano said a motorist reported seeing four boys in a truck where one of the fires started, and heard one of the boys say, "Let's get going. There it goes—maybe" before the truck drove away. A moment later flames started in the grass alongside the road where the truck had been parked.

All three fires were reported between 5 and 5:14 p.m.

SM School Dist. Sues for Ground

The San Mateo Elementary School Dist. Wednesday brought suit in superior court here to force a San Mateo couple to move two garages which are claimed to project into the playground of the Sunnybrae School.

The garages are owned by Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Terranova, the complaint stated, and were built in 1939. They project from 3½ to 12 inches into the schoolgrounds.

Sullivan was charged with the burglary of the Topper Club and of the University Poultry and Egg Co. chicken shed on University Ave., East Palo Alto.

He was arrested on Feb. 27, after deputy sheriffs found several decapitated chickens in Sullivan's backyard. The burglar had wrung the heads from the chickens at the poultry market.

About $750 was taken from the Topper Club. Davis said that Sullivan's mother paid the money back to the bar.

During the trial, Sullivan presented a defense of amnesia. Davis said that Sullivan had been picked up in a state of amnesia three times, in 1940, 1943 and 1946.

He was dismissed from the Palo Alto Police Department in 1946 after he took $800 which had been left in the police station by a prisoner. Sullivan pleaded guilty to a grand theft charge, and was placed on three years' probation.

In another case before Judge Cotton, John A. O'Donnell, 48, a janitor, pleaded guilty to forging a check with the name of his employer, A. W. Buschke. The check, for $35, was passed at Dan's Place on Aug. 7. Davis said that O'Donnell allegedly forged a total of eight checks, adding up to $311.

O'Donnell asked for probation and will be sentenced next Monday afternoon.

MP Police Force Adds 3 Officers

Three new officers have been added to the Menlo Park Police Dept., and another will join the department in a week, Chief George Potter said Wednesday.

Officers George Pryal and Marvin McIntyre, who have been on temporary duty this summer, received permanent appointments Sept. 1. Officer Robert Pogge, who left the department several years ago to do body and fender work, rejoined Aug. 31.

Officer Daniel Harris will become a member of the department Sept. 15, Chief Potter said. Capt. Michael Coyle, USMC, retired, will join the department Monday as a special officer, to be stationed at school crossings during school days.

Gas Supplies Running Low In Oil Strike

Far Western states were rapidly depleting gasoline and fuel oil supplies Monday, with no predictable end in sight of the CIO oil workers strike. There arose the danger of huge crop losses if the motor transportation system is crippled.

Holiday drivers, buzzing up and down the highways, were a critical problem and oil companies were urging prompt resort to voluntary rationing so that available fuel oils could be allocated to where they are most vitally needed.

Gasoline pumps were worked overtime in Redwood City as holiday motorists filled their tanks and other containers so they wouldn't be caught short.

Several local service station operators reported that gasoline sales over the weekend have been the heaviest in history, and that if the distributors are not able to supply refills, they may run out in a few days.

Meanwhile, County Fire Warden Bert Werder, whose department is completing a six-day fight in Santa Cruz County slowing down a forest fire, warned that it is unlawful to store gasoline.

There was a run on gasoline stations throughout the west, private automobile owners rushing to fill their tanks and, in many instances, buying extra gasoline for home storage cans. This hoarding was regarded as a dangerous drain dwindling reserves and, as the San Francisco fire marshal pointed out, a fire hazard.

Gov. Earl Warren, concerned over California's rich fruit and vegetable crops, ordered the Public Utility Commission to "spare no time or expense" in determining the exact situation.

Oil companies said fuel supplies, at best, could last no longer than two weeks in California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona. There will be "spot shortages" much sooner, particularly in smaller communities supplied by tank truck.

Oil companies said they would ask Secy. of the Interior Krug to establish voluntary rationing.

Millbrae Protests Over Dirt Hauling

The battle of Millbrae citizens against dirt-hauling through their city was carried to the floor of the city council meeting last night.

Several times Councilman James T. Kilpatrick, presiding, rapped for order and there were shouts from the floor: "Get a new city council."

At the meeting's end a program of action to control quarrying and hauling operations had been decided upon:

1. The council ordered the city attorney to notify the Morrison Knudsen Co. it must obtain a use permit before starting dirt-hauling operations from its quarry in Meadow Glen subdivision. The company announced yesterday it would haul 450,000 yards of dirt out as part of a new $4,000,000 contract for work at San Francisco Airport.

2. An ordinance covering truck operations and other phases of the situation will be ready for introduction at an adjourned meeting of the council Friday night.

ASTHENOPIA
[EYESTRAIN]

Tonight in thousands of rooms considered "well lighted" young eyes are being harmed by light that is either too dim or is raw, harsh and glaring.

Improper lighting is a principal cause of eyestrain with accompanying headache and drowsy fatigue. In severe cases eyes should be examined and glasses prescribed. But in all cases light must be right—better light for better sight.

EYESTRAIN
PICKS IT S VICTIMS YOUNG

1 of every 5 children in grade school suffers from impaired vision. Poor lighting causes unnecessary eyestrain.

2 out of 5 college graduates have defective sight . . . a result which good lighting might have helped to prevent.

Protect young eyes these 4 ways: 1. Provide a good study lamp for the students in your home. 2. Make sure each lamp has a bulb of the right size. 3. Be sure the light is diffused—not glaring. 4. Clean lamp shade and reflector bowl for better, whiter light.

NPA Group Opposes Police Dist.

North Palo Alto residents, charging that only 4 per cent of the Ravenswood School Dist. wants a single, unified police district, Tuesday asked for exclusion from the proposed district.

One of the issues is whether the sheriff's night patrol is adequate for the area. One side claimed it is, the other that it is not.

Arthur Nobbs, 307 Haight St., declared that there is no widespread support among the 7000 residents of the Ravenswood area for the formation of a unified police district.

On the other hand, he claimed that 1000 of the 1800 residents of North Palo Alto have gone on record in writing opposing their inclusion in such a district.

Nobbs, a cost engineer, presented a detailed study, complete with maps, of the opposition and the reasons for it to the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, at the final hearing this morning on the proposed police district.

The supervisors, however, announced that they would delay action on forming the district until they examine Nobbs' study and weigh the issues involved.

There are two propositions before the board:

1. That a unified police protection district be formed, embracing the area of the Ravenswood School Dist., including East and North Palo Alto, Belle Haven, and intermediate areas.

2. That a separate North Palo Alto police district be formed, and that residents of that area be excluded from the Ravenswood police district. This issue is still to come before the supervisors at a later date.

James T. O'Keefe Jr., a Redwood City lawyer and Menlo Park city attorney, presented the views of the proponents of the larger, unified district.

He declared that it would be "somewhat foolish for the board of supervisors to burden itself" by dividing up the Ravenswood area into more than one police district.

Frank R. Reese, 2211 Runnymede Ave., introduced by O'Keefe, declared that the Ravenswood area has been the scene of a "minor crime wave" and of many automobile accidents. Only the sheriff's patrol is available for protection.

"It is necessary to augment the sheriff's patrol with a bona fide police district," he declared.

The Ravenswood district has 7000 residents, 2500 homes and 150 business houses, he said. Of the business places, about a score are in North Palo Alto, he added.

Antonio J. Gaudio, South San Francisco attorney, represents the North Palo Alto group.

He disputed Reese's claim, contending that the night patrol by the sheriff's deputies was adequate for North Palo Alto.

10 Acre SC Fire Threatens Homes

About a dozen homes in the Devonshire area northwest of San Carlos were threatened Sunday when fire swept 10 acres of grass and brush.

The fire burned into the back yards of some of the homes, the County Forest Service reported.

It took place during a time when the county fire department had on hand a short crew and only some of its smaller trucks, due to the Big Basin forest fire, to which the larger equipment had been dispatched.

The San Carlos fire department dispatched three trucks to the fire, to aid the three crews from the country fire department.

The fire was between Beverly and Club Drives, north of the Devonshire Country Club. It started about 12:40 p.m., and was still under way at 4 o'clock when another fire was reported near Edgewood Rd., west of Redwood City.

One county truck had returned to its station. This, together with two from Redwood City and one from Woodside, were rushed to the blaze. The other two county trucks also were dispatched to the second blaze after cleaning up the first.

The fire, south of Edgewood Rd. across from the Hassler Health Home, was held to a half acre. It was controlled about 5:30 p.m.

Labor Day Pay Low For Burglars

Burglars who picked on a Millbrae lumber yard for some Labor Day work discovered that crime does not pay—much.

Dep. Sheriff Milton Minehan said that the burglars picked on the office of the Burlingame Lumber Co., 601 El Camino Real, owned by Elmo E. Phillips, a Millbrae police commissioner.

Their total loot was $34.48. To get it, they had to break in the back window of the office, and using a punch, knock the combination off a small safe.

There was no estimating the time it took them, but at holiday rates, their earnings probably were below scale.

Party Burglar Confesses To 9 Crimes

Troy W. Lockart, alias Walter Heck, 29, of Burlingame, who was held to answer on burglary charges Wednesday afternoon before Redwood City Police Judge W. H. Thorpe, has made a clean breast of a series of nine party-time burglaries.

Four of the burglaries which Lockhart admitted were in Redwood City, three in San Carlos and two in Burlingame.

Lockhart's scheme was to choose a house where friends were visiting, enter another part of the house and take purses.

It was the backfiring of this system that landed him in jail here. He was arrested Aug. 29 after he was surprised in the bedroom of the home of David Holder, 909 Blandford Blvd., by Mrs. Holder. He hit Mrs. Holder over the head and escaped for a short time. He was picked up on the street near the Holder home.

Police Sgt. Sylvester Douglass said Wednesday that Lockhart Tuesday admitted entering the home of Mrs. E. L. Schieber, 4 Hyde St., on Aug. 21, but that he was scared away before he got anything.

On Aug. 22 he entered the home of Mrs. Gemma Ratto, 99 King St., and took a purse belonging to Marie Chappelone of San Francisco, who was visiting at the Ratto home. A fountain pen and $3 were in the purse.

Party-time burglaries in San Carlos were at the home of Mrs. W. W. Wells, 112 Kelton St., about $50 from four purses, on Aug. 15; Cecil Ducan, 1824 Greenwood Ave., about $25 from two purses, and Dr. Earl Peckham, 524 Emerald Ave., change from a purse belonging to Mrs. A. C. Argo of Redwood City.

Brawl Ends Burlingame House Party

Details of a Burlingame teenage party, that started out as a pleasant evening of dancing but turned into a "brawl" when party crashers arrived, were revealed Tuesday by Police Chief R. C. Theuer of Burlingame.

According to Theuer, the party, held in the Gunst home, Washington Park, to honor a Burlingame High School graduate leaving soon to enter an Eastern university, was apparently nearing its end when the party crashers showed up.

He said the police station got the first call shortly before midnight, apparently the time the party crashers first reached the scene, and that the caller said there was a "disturbance" at the Gunst home.

Within two minutes, he added, the station got a second call, this time the caller reporting a fight in progress.

Officers William Kilbourne, Warren Kissling and Harry Emerick were dispatched to the Gunst home, where they reported they found some 150 youngsters of high school age milling about both inside and outside the building.

The officers reported "It was obvious many at the party had had liquor in varying degrees but none was staggering drunk."

They broke up the party immediately, sent the juveniles home and removed the many beer and whisky bottles, which they reported they found in all the rooms and outside Gunst's home, to the station.

Meantime, Jules Francard, a city employe, reported to police that the amount of damage done to the house and grounds is near $100. He said there was some construction work being done in Washington Park, but that the teen-agers had driven their cars across the lawns, had run them into and over flare pots and header boards which had been put up across the roads.

Theur said Tuesday it was his considered opinion the party crashers were from out of town and blamed their antics on "inter-school jealousy."

He said no charges will be filed against any teen-agers, but emphasized that a city ordinance, requiring those staging dances first obtain a police permit, will be enforced henceforth.

He added the ordinance was permitted to lie dormant during the war but "from now on we're going to enforce it."

Woman Injured In Fall on Steps

Mrs. Bertha Borea, Collins Ave., Colma, is in Junipero Serra Hospital Tuesday with a possible fractured skull suffered Monday afternoon when she fell down the steps to the sidewalk of a neighbor's house, the sheriff's office reported.

Dep. Sheriff Jack O'Brien said that Mrs. Borea was looking for her husband, Angelo, who had left home during the morning.

She walked up the steps of the home of Mrs. Loretta Mitchell, Mission Rd., stumbled and fell down about four feet, hitting her head on the sidewalk, O'Brien said.

News of Commuters

Caboose picks the darndest time to take a holiday.

The annual barbecue held at the Richard tum Suden estate Sunday was one of the most outstanding events yet to be held in the history of the club. One hundred twenty-six members and their wives arrived in time to partake of delicious red lemonade and stuff.

Seemed strange to see a bunch of commuters having a swell time without looking for a pinochle game. Stan Perkins and his gang of house committee members toiled all day Saturday and again at the crack of dawn Sunday to prepare the steaks and trimmin's for their guests. And what steaks, didn't know they could be so delicious. Bill Curran acting as master of ceremonies presented former Pres. "Loco" Bill McKeegan with a nice shiney locomotive and retiring Pres. Paul Allen with a fire engine as a memento of their services to the club.

The presence of Radio Artist Mary Wood who rendered numerous songs was very thrilling. The talent of various members of the club who were called on to entertain, including Bert Conroy Mrs. Roy Cloud, Bill McKeegan, Cecil Campbell and Fred Jaeger, were greatly appreciated.

All in all the party was a huge success, thanks to our gracious hosts Dick and Tess tum Suden. As Caboose remarked in a previous column "If the special meetings of the house committee have anything to do with a good party, let's have more meetings."

P.A. Man Arrested On Drunk Charge

Byron Aquilla Aswander, 42-year-old laborer, 1062 Grand St., Palo Alto, was arrested early Monday morning by Belmont police and charged with drunken driving.

He was arrested at 2 a.m. on El Camino Real.

RC Firemen Burn Condemned Tank House

A tank house near the Hoover School which had been ruled a hazard was burned by the fire department Wednesday morning.

Firemen reported that children had been playing on the house and there was danger that it might fall.
